Letter from the President

Howdy Moms!

I hope everyone has recovered from crazy Texas weather last week! Seems like the last few years, we have faced several crazy and unusual situations. Fortunately, Aggie Moms are smart and resourceful women. We are accustomed to making difficult things happen and on the fly most of the time. Once again, we find ourselves as beacons...shining light and guiding others. I am looking forward to spring and the weather that comes along! I want to continue to lead you ladies and supporting you as our Ags finish up another year in Aggieland.

Thanks and Gig 'Em

Tyler Aggie Moms SPOTLIGHT

Martha Jane and Mary Catherine Wallace

Mary Catherine Wallace is a senior Biology major and Spanish minor and will graduate in May with honors. She plans to attend dental school in the fall. She has been involved in her sorority, Delta Zeta, for four years. She has served as the Panhellenic Delegate as well as Vice President of Programming for the sorority. She is also a member of Texas A&M's Pre-Dental Society and Order of Omega Honor Society at Texas A&M. Over breaks, Mary Catherine shadowed dentists, took classes, and also worked. Her hobbies include traveling and spending time with friends and family.

Martha Jane Wallace is Mary Catherine's mother and is so proud to be an Aggie Mom! Martha Jane is a pharmacist and does relief work for different pharmacies in Tyler. She is also the manager of Lewis First Monday in Canton, Texas, where she leases booth spaces to vendors each month. She also has twins, Will and Sarabeth, who are completing their first year of college. Martha Jane enjoys traveling to see her children as often as possible. Martha Jane has served as the Hospitality Chair for the Aggie Mom's Club of Tyler and is also a board member of the Tyler Civic Theatre and is currently co-producing "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown".
